LONDON, APRIL 12.

Mr. Wickham's note to Mr. Barthelemi is conſpicuous for the chilling formation of its ſtyle, and for the extreme caution with which it reſtrains from uſing any words that might afford ſatisfaction to the French Republic. The diplomatic character of M. Barthelemi is no where mentioned, the form of the French conſtitution is no where acknowledged, and the term French Republic ſeems to be ſtudiouſly avoided.

In the common tranſactions of life ſuch minutiæ may be of no conſequence;—but they are of no ſlight moment in the diplomatic dealings between two nations in a ſtate of war. The concluding ſentence of Mr. Wickham's note ſeems to be wholly unneceſſary for any purpoſe of pacification. It explains none of the preceding ſentences; and ſurely it is not calculated to afford any proof of the frankneſs, candour, and ſincerity of the Britiſh government.

APRIL 13.

It is an important fact that the meſſenger which carried the diſpatch to Mr. Wickham went by the way of Vienna, it being the object of our cabinet to procure the Emperor's concurrence, in which caſe the official note would have been in the joint name of the two ſovereigns. It is obvious, from its being only in the name of his Britannic Majeſty, that the Emperor did not give his conſent; and it is not improbable that he will negociate for himſelf a ſeparate peace.

A great deal of foreign corn was in the market on Monday; but the purchaſers would not deign to look at the ſamples, and refuſed to give them 50s a quarter.

But it is not in England alone, that the happy proſpect of abundance opens itſelf.—The weekly bill of entry in the port of London, dated the 9th inſt. and filed in every merchant's houſe, contains an article ſhewing, that 3600 wt. of flour was imported laſt week from Havre, and 500 wt. of ſtarch from Dunkirk. The ſuperfluity of France, it therefore appears, is alleviating the diſtreſſes of England.

APRIL 15.

We enter into a detail of the intelligence (a ſketch of which we gave yeſterday) contained in the Paris papers of the 7th, 8th, 9th, and 10th inſt.

Theſe papers are full of ſpeculations on the probability of a ſpeedy peace; ſpeculations which, unhappily we now know have no foundation.

Reports of a new armiſtice between the French and Auſtrian armies upon the Rhine ſtill prevail at Paris, and one of the French papers, the Ami des Loix, mentions, that letters have been received from the army of the Rhine, which ſtate that, in conſequence of the new armiſtice, the French and Auſtrians are to retire to a diſtance of 25 leagues from each other.

Of the note of Mr. Wickham to M. Barthelemi, and of the anſwer returned to it, the French papers are entirely ignorant.

The Directory have not yet made any communication upon the ſubject to the Legiſlature.

Rear admiral Harvey, who is appointed to ſucceed vice admiral Cornwallis in the chief command of the Leeward Iſland ſquadron, attended the board of admiralty yeſterday, and received orders to proceed to his ſtation in the Royal Sovereign as ſoon as that ſhip is ready to ſail.

Admiral Cornwallis's flag is ſtruck.

APRIL 16.

We received this morning the Dutch papers to the 5th inſt. and the official journal of the Executive Directory to the 10th inclusive. The Dutch papers contain little more than reports of the proceedings of the National Aſſembly. The internal ſituation of Holland is perfectly tranquil. The papers contain no account of the Dutch fleet.

The ſecrecy obſerved by the Dutch in their naval expeditions is productive of the moſt beneficial conſequences to them. The deſtination of the fleet that lately ſailed from the Texel is not known even at the preſent moment, to any perſon but the executive officers, by which conduct they have completely fruſtrated the attempts on our part to intercept them.

The Dutch fleet has a great number of ſoldiers on board, who act as ſailors. It has been reported for the laſt two days, that it has effected its paſſage to Rochelle in France.

Rear Admiral Pringle is appointed commander in chief of the naval forces in the Eaſt-Indies, and will follow the laſt convoy in a few days, with two or three ſhips of the line.

Vice-Admiral Cornwallis has reſigned his command. He is next in rank to Lord Bridport.

APRIL 19.

At a late hour laſt night, were received by expreſs, the Paris Journals to the 15th inſt. inclusive.

"The reports of approaching peace" ſays a Pariſian Journaliſt, "are conſiderably weakened;" and Tallien obſerved in the Council of Five Hundred on the 14th inſt. "that there was a party which wiſhed to prevent the concluſion of peace, becauſe peace was neceſſary to reſtore plenty and happineſs to the Republic."

So late as the 15th inſt. not the ſmalleſt notice had been taken of the notes which had paſſed between Mr. Wickham and the French Directory, on the ſubject of peace. Not a ſyllable had been ſaid on the ſubject in either of the councils, nor do any of the Journaliſts make mention of the circumſtance.

It is mentioned in two of the Paris papers, that the diviſion of the army of the North under Bournonville, has entered the Electorate of Hanover.

The campaign has not yet commenced upon the Rhine, and ſome of the Paris papers ſtill inſiſt that a ſecond armiſtice is to taks place, and that the armies have already begun to withdraw to a conſiderable diſtance from each other.

In the ſittings of the council of Five Hundred of the 23d Germinal, (April 12) a violent ferment took place upon the report of the ſituation of the South.

Treilhard demanded, 1ſt. That a meſſage ſhould be ſent to the Directory; to inquire of it an account of the ſituation of the South, and the cauſes of the agitations which have manifeſted themſelves. 2dly. That the commiſſion charged with this object ſhould be annulled.

Iſnard appeared at the tribune. It was demanded from all parts, that the diſcuſſion ſhould be cloſed. Dumolard wiſhed to ſpeak. Iſnard threw himſelf from the tribune with violence. Julien had a warm altercation with Jourdan. The Preſident covered himſelf: the tumult continued. Jourdan appeared at the tribune; the troubles increaſed. The Preſident covered himſelf for the ſecond time. Iſnard and Jourdan deſcended from the tribune, and threw themſelves into the middle of the Hall. Particular altercations began to ſhew themſelves. The Preſident was obliged again to cover himſelf.

The propoſition of Treilhard was at laſt put to vote, and carried by a great majority.

They write from Switzerland, that three Proteſtant Cantons have acknowledged the French Republic.

The beſt underſtanding exiſts between the French Republic and Spain. Some difficulties had ariſen between the two nations on the ſubject of reſtoring French property in Spain, ſequeſtered at the commencement of the war. The Prince of Peace in a letter to the French miniſter at Madrid, has informed him, that directions have been given for the immediate reſtoration of this property.

APRIL 20.

Rear Admiral Pringle leaves town to-morrow for Portſmouth. He will hoiſt his flag on board the Tremendous, of 74 guns, and ſail immediately for the Cape of Good Hope.

Should it prove true, that the Republican army of the North, under the command of Bournonville, has entered part of the electorate of Hanover, which is within the line of demarcation agreed to at the peace agreed upon between the King of Pruſſia and the French, it muſt either evince a wanton breach of treaty, or that the Executive Directory have ſtrong reaſons to imagine that Frederick is rather acting as a private enemy than as a declared friend, and therefore that they are not politically obliged to obſerve very ſtrictly any treaty entered into with him, ſuppoſing, perhaps, that he is ſecretly uſing every endeavour to bring about a reſtoration of the Stadtholder, or perhaps fomenting a ſpirit of oppoſition among the Dutch to their preſent government.

As there ſeems now to be little doubt that the Ruſſians have either actually entered into hoſtilities with the Turks, or very ſhortly will do ſo, the firſt object of their attack hat probably been the important fortreſs of Choczim, which is only ſeparated from the ci-devant republic of Poland by the river Nieſter, and after its capture will endeavour at the conqueſt of the principalities of Moldavia and Wallachia, which were in their reſtoration at the laſt peace, and ſo to enter the province of Beſſarabia and beſiege Bender. The inhabitants of theſe provinces are at leaſt nineteen out of twenty Greeks, or of what is called the Greek church, and attached ſtrongly to the Empreſs, and who would be readily induced to join the Ruſſian ſtandard. The Porte, however, does not appear to be unprepared, and the conflict will be dreadful.

APRIL 22.

A letter was received at the Admiralty on Wedneſday night from the firſt lieutenant of the Diamond frigate, off the coaſt of France, containing an account of the capture of that gallant officer Sir Sidney Smith.

Sir Sidney, in the night of Monday laſt, went in his boat to cut out a French lugger in the port of Havre. This he accompliſhed, after ſome reſiſtance, by which one Frenchman was killed; but deterred from immediately ſailing by the rapidity of the current caſt anchor.—During the night, however, the ſhip drove from her anchor —the cable, it is ſaid, being cut by one of the priſoners—and was carried by the current above the town.

In this ſituation he was attacked on the morning of Tueſday, by all the gun-boats and other veſſels which the enemy could muſter; and after a gallant and even deſperate reſiſtance, againſt a force ſo infinitely ſuperior to his own, he found himſelf at length obliged to ſurrender. We are happy however to find, that he has received no injury in the conflict.

There were five officers with him —in the number were, Meſſrs. W. Moore, R. Kenyon, and S. Barrow.

The following particulars are extracted from a private letter received from an officer on board the Diamond frigate, which Sir Sidney Smith commanded, and which is arrived off Brighton.

"On the 18th inſtant, in the afternoon, Sir Sidney Smith ordered five boats belonging to the ſhips of his ſquadron to be manned, and he himſelf embarked on board one of them, to reconnoitre the harbour of Havre de Grace; and to obtain certain information which he wanted to procure. In this ſervice, after a ſtrong engagement, he captured a French lugger of 8 guns, on board of which Sir Sidney Smith went. It falling a calm ſoon after, and a flood tide, Sir Sidney could not get out to ſea, and accordingly dropt anchor in Havre Roads. After dark one of the French priſoners took an opportunity to cut the cable of the lugger, on which ſhe drifted up the harbour into the mouth of the the river Seine. On the morning of the 19th the lugger was attacked by a French brig of 14 guns, and fiva gun-boats, which the governor had ſent out. An engagement of 40 minutes enſued, when Sir Sidney Smith was obliged to ſtrike to this ſuperior force. Himſelf, his officers, and men, to the number of 32, were ſent on ſhore at Havre.

"The officers on board the Diamond frigate, on hearing of the capture of Sir Sidney Smith, ſent a flag of truce into Havre, to enquire whether he was wounded; hoping he would be treated kindly. To this the governor of Havre returned, that Sir Sidney was well and he would be treated with humanity.

"We are happy to add, that only four Britiſh ſeamen were killed, and one officer and ſix ſeamen ſlightly wounded.

"The ſeamen were immediately thrown into priſon on their landing; and Sir Sidney underwent a long examination before the French Commandant, after which he was ordered to be conveyed under a ſtrong eſcort to Paris."

APRIL 23.

By the arrival of the Argo, of 44 guns, one of Sir Edward Pellew's ſquadron, at Plymouth, intelligence is brought of the capture of La Unite, a French frigate of 40 guns, by the Concorde of 36 guns, Captain Hunt, likewiſe one of Sir Edward's ſquadron, after a ſevere action in which the enemy had 36 men killed and wounded —but happily, from ſuperior ſkill and management, not a ſingle man was either killed or wounded on board the Britiſh ſhip.

DUBLIN, APRIL 21.

WAR BETWEEN RUSSIA AND THE PORTE.

PEST, MARCH 30.

The march of the Ruſſian troops to the Ottoman frontiers has long announced an approaching rupture between Ruſſia and the Porte. It is expected that hoſtilities will ſoon break out. It is pretended that that which has determined the Empreſs to haſten the opening of the campaign, is her uneaſineſs at the preparations of the Turks both by ſea and land, and information of France having ſent officers and arms of all ſorts to the Porte, in conſequence ſhe has cauſed to be followed by three armies of 50,000 men each, a manifeſto that ſhe has publiſhed againſt the Divan, and ſhe is determined to attack ſome parts of the Turkiſh empire before the French can have time to combine their plan of operations in the enſuing campaign with that of the Muſſelmen. Such are the motives that the Vienna Gazette aſſigns for the recent hoſtilities of which we are informed. We are aſſured the Ruſſians have already taken the fortreſs of Choczim; and that an army, under the command of General Romanzow has already reached the borders of the Dnieſter.

It is thought that this ſudden invaſion is an event concerted in execution of the triple alliance, and that its object is to oblige the Grand Seignior to break all connection with the French.

PRAGUE, APRIL 12.

Our Gazette which, but a few days ſince, endeavoured to diſcredit all the reports from the Turkiſh frontiers of the warlike preparations of the Porte, repeat in the number of this day the accounts lately publiſhed in ſeveral papers, of the aſſembling of the troops in Turkey, and their march to Adrianople, and aſſure, at the ſame time, that the ambaſſador of a certain power (France) that has great influence upon the Porte, endeavoured to ſtir up a war in order to effect a diviſion of this couutry.

VIENNA, APRIL 6.

The Imperial Internuncio at Conſtantinople has informed our court, that a rupture between Ruſſia and the Porte is very probable; that the latter ſtrain every nerve in order to put her naval and land forces on a reſpectable footing, but that the Turkiſh miniſtry avoid every thing that could give offence to Auſtria.

POLISH CONFEDERATION REVIVED.

WARSAW, APRIL 2.

Letters from the province of Podalia aſſert, that about 1500 Poliſh emigrants are aſſembled in Moldavia: among them are the celebrated brigadiers Wolyiſko, Deniſko, Liberadzky, and ſeveral other leaders, who have diſtinguiſhed themſelves in the late revolution. Lately they made an incurſion into Podalia, diſperſed a patrole of Ruſſian Coſſacks, and after having puſhed as far as Swanieze, they poſted up manifeſtoes wherein they formally proteſt againſt the partition of Poland, and declare that with the help of God they expected to reſtore their country to its former independence, and reeſtabliſh the Conſtitution of the 3d of May, as the only one adapted to Poland, and univerſally cheriſhed by the people. After having done this they retreated again to their former ſtations.

APRIL 4.

The fear of many people here, that new commotions would break out in Poland, is now unhappily but too well grounded:—The commotions have already broke out. A new confederation has made its appearance in the Ukraine. Eight thouſand armed Poles, all veterans of the Poliſh army, who, at the time the Ruſſians took poſſeſſion of Podolia, retreated to the Turkiſh territory, have lately appeared in the neighbourhood of Kamiciez, Podolſky, and at Swaniez, in the territory held by the Ruſſians, they iſſued a manifeſto to the Poliſh nation and afterwards retreated; they are led on by DENISKO, KOLLDISKO and LRADEZKY. The manifeſto which ſhews that the confederates depend on the ſupport of the Ottoman Porte, is in the hands of many perſons in this city.

"Our beſt wheat is ſold at 8s. the buſhel, and the American is dull at 40s. the quarter. We ſincerely hope, that the commercial phrenzy of ſpeculation has not not extended to you, and that all our friends have eſcaped the infection. HAMBURG, APRIL 20.

"There is every appearance that the Pruſſians, Ruſſians, Danes, and Swedes, will be at war in the courſe of the ſummer, from the great preparations which are making by ſea and land; and it is the general opinion that the Swedes in this port who are ready for ſea, are ordered to remain although now a fair wind."

The Philadelphia Gazette, contains an account, tranſlated from a paper printed at the Iſle of France, of the capture of the Triton, one of the Engliſh Eaſt-India Company's ſhips, carrying twenty 12 pounders on her deck, ſix 4 pounders on her fore caſtle, and 136 men, by a French ſchooner, with a few ſmall cannon and 17 men! The following is an extract from the relation of this affair:

"The Triton ſeeing a ſchooner approach her, took her to be a pilot boat from the Ganges, lay to, hoiſted her colours and fired a gun. Sarcouf, commander of the French ſchooner, got to the windward, and notwithſtanding the ſuperiority of the enemy which he had before him, after having been aſſured of the good diſpoſition and courage of his crew, he reſolved to take poſſeſſion of her or periſh in the attempt. Arrived within piſtol ſhot he fired three rounds with his cannon, and cauſed all his muſquetry to fire upon the veſſel, and without waiting longer, boarded the Engliſhman with 17 of his crew, and after a combat of an hour and an half on board the veſſel, Capt. Surcouf became maſter of his prize."

The Indian Apollo, a Calcutta Paper of the 7th of February, mentioned the above capture as follows:

"On Friday an expreſs arrived in town from Ganjam, communicating the diſagreeable intelligence of the capture of the hon. company's ſhip Triton, capt. Burnyeat.

"The [illegible]nt of the capture of the Triton was brought to Ganjam by the Diana, captain Tapſon, which had al-

The European accounts in this day's MIRROR wear a different aspect from those lately given. The belligeren t powers are making great preparations for recommencing hostilities, and Russia, Turkey, and Sweden on the point of entering the lists of carnage and desolation.

From the Salem Gazette.

Mr. Carlton,—As the following extract may contain a useful piece of information for our navigators of the Baltic sea, you may serve the purpose of navigation by giving it a place in your Gazette.

Extract from a paper on the latitude and longitudes, of several places in Denmark, by Mr. Thomas Bugge, Professor of Astronomy at Copenhagen.

"In all the best maps of the Kattegat, as that by Mr, Lous, published in 1790, that by Mr. Verdun de la Crenne, M. Borda and M. Pringe, 1778, that by Mr. Akelie, 1771, that by Mr. Ankerkrona, 1782, the position of Anholt is very erroneous. The light-house of Anholt, and the whole isle, is from 7 to 9 minutes too much westerly; and the distance from the light-house to the Swedish coast, in a direction perpendicular to the meridian of the light-house is, in all maps hitherto published, nearly 4 English miles, or $\frac{1}{8}$th part of the whole, too great.—Experience has taught the navigators, that they come too soon down upon Anholt; or that they, cruising between Anholt and Sweden, over-run their reckoning—which was ascribed to the currents; although the true reason of it was the great error in the geographical and hydrographical position in a narrow and dangerous passage."

Latitude of Anholt light-house is 56, 44, 20, long. 0, 55, 24, west from Copenhagen. Lat. of Copenhagen 55, 41, 4.

NORFOLK, JUNE 9.

Capt. Ballard informs that the Salisbury 50 gun ship run a shore on the isle of Ash, in the night of the 11th or 12th May, and was lost, The crew (344 men) were made prisoners by the French, who have saved the chief part of the ammunition, some small arms, and several other articles.

Many persons who pretend to have carefully perused the New French Constitution, are at a loss to find an article justifying the declaration contained in the note of the French Minister B[illegible]ELEMY, "that the constitutional act [illegible] not permit the Directory to consent to any alienation of that which, according to the existing laws, constitutes the territory of the Republic." They alledge, that the 332d article establishes only, that the territory of the Republic cannot be alienated by means of secret article annexed to treaties. To clear up this matter we need only cast an eye on the first article of the Constitution, which says "The French Republic is one and Indivisible. And the 3d article specifies the names of the Departments that compass the Republic, to which are annexed the Nine Departments of Belgium and Liege incorporated by the Decree of the 1st October, 1796, before the National Convention closed its sitting as a Constituent Assembly.

FROM EUROPE.

From Paris papers received by the Leeds Packet, arrived at New-York, in 40 days from London.

NETHERLANDS.

BRUSSELS, APRIL 13.

We learn from Cologne, that the secretary of the Austrian minister to Nuremberg, has written to a relation, that the negotiation for peace was going on with great activity, and the most principal difficulties surmounted.—Letters from Ratisbon announce the same intelligence.

It is said, that without England, peace would have been already signed between Austria and France; but that notwithstanding the manœuvres of the British minister, it is not far distant. From rumours circulating at Ratisbon, but probably with slight foundation, the principal conditions would be these:

The different powers to respect the independence of Holland. That nation to be at liberty to choose for itself the form of government it prefers; the French, however, to withdraw their troops. All the territory conquered of the German empire to be restored with the least delay possible. The same also with respect to Belgium and Liege, but not until the French shall have been put in possession of their colonies in the East and West-Indies.

The emperor to cede in perpetuity to the republic the province of Luxembourg, the county of Namur, the Tournaises, and West Flanders. He to receive as a compensation, Dutch Flanders and the town Maestricht.

Such is the news received from Germany. What is more singular is, that a letter from Vienna mentions the same conditions.

NOTE,

From the London Conductors.

☞ We have given the above literatim from the Eclair of the 18th inst. But notwithstanding the circumstantial tone of the report, we believe little risk will be run by those who rely on the continuance of the war. Indeed the stipulation that France shall re-possess her colonies, premises the consent of England, without whose concurrence, notwithstanding, the negotiation is said to be effectually proceeding.

LONDON, APRIL 23.

Sir Sidney Smith's father, a very respectable gentlemen, is now in London, lamenting the fate of his son: but he ought to receive this consolation, that Sir Sidney has suffered no personal injury, and that his bravery commands the gratitude of his country. What father would not wish for such a son?

PHILADELPHIA, JUNE 10.

Arrived the schooner Susannah, Captain Carson, 16 days from Barbadoes, who informs, that the third reinforcement had been dispatched for St. Lucie before he sailed; that part of the Cork fleet had arrived there; and that the remainder, eleven in number, were taken by a Dutch fleet and carried into Surinam.

Extract of a letter from Boston, June 5.

"The ship Barbara, captain Holland, belonging to this port, arrived here yesterday from London, loaden with flour. She loaded at Norfolk, was to sell in England, and proceed to Russia; but the captain not being offered more than eight dollars per barrel, thought it best to return."

Captain Jones, in 18 days from Curracoa, informs, that two ships of the Cork fleet had been sent in there, prizes to a French privateer; and that a brig in 42 days from Amsterdam had arrived;—the captain gave information, that the Dutch fleet consisting of seventeen ships of war was left the Texel a few days before him; ten of them were said to be bound to the East-Indies, and seven for the West.

JUNE 13.

A letter from a respectable merchant in Cadiz, to a gentleman in Philadelphia, dated March 22, mentions, that admiral Richerry, with 7 sail of the line and 3 frigates, were lying there, fully manned and provisioned, waiting for the arrival of a division from Brest, to join the Spanish of 22 sail of the line, besides frigates, with a number of troops, under the command of admiral Solano, bound for the West-Indies.

The snow Polly, Mann, was to sail from Surinam three days after the schooner Betsey, Mitchel, who arrived here yesterday, and mentions the arrival of a Dutch fleet there of seven sail of men of war.

Appointment by the President of the United States.

FREDERICK JACOB WICHELHAUSEN, Consul of the United States of America for the port of Bremen.

DIED.—On the 13th instant, at Baltimore, Mr. WILLIAM BONIS of this Town.

TO BE RENTED,

For two years, more or less, as the parties can agree, that desirable and improved Lot called

SPRING GARDEN.

The reason of the proprietor's leaving a place so truly advantageous, is an inclination to follow his own profession, for the sake of educating his own unfortunate family. There is a good house on the premises, a large room for a Billiard Table, bath coolers, and an excellent spring house. The soil is rich by nature, uncommonly manured, and well cropped. The owner's present intentions are never to occupy it again himself; therefore has no objection to enter a clause in this short lease, that he never will change his tenant for a consideration less than fifty dollars annually, he keeping the stipulated covenants.—Apply on the premises for particulars. June 16.

June 2. JOHN HUNTER.

Lands for Sale.

ONE Tract of Land containing 600 acres, lying in the county of Northumberland, about 15 miles from the courthouse of that county, situated on the great Wicomico river, near the place where it enters into the Chesapeake Bay, and commands a beautiful and extensive water prospect. It is quite level, fertile and extraordinarily well watered, and equally healthy with any other part of the Northern Neck. There are 200 acres, or near that quantity of the land opened, and there is on the same a good peach and apple orchard. The remaining 400 acres is covered with uncommonly fine timber, which is very valuable as it lies so immediately on the bay and consequently must answer the purpose of ship building. From this land the purchaser may have a great convenience of carrying his produce to market, as there are a great number of sea port towns contiguous to it. Land in Fauquier county will be received in exchange for that above described.

The subscriber has also 800 acres of Land for sale in Culpepper county, adjoining the land of Col. William Stantons; there is on the Land small plantations cleared, the rest is all wood, there is also on the same an excellent seat for a Grist or Saw Mill on a good Stream and the greatest abundance of Pine and Oak, suitable for Plank, and the Land lies about 25 miles from the Town of Fredericksburg, and on a branch of Rappahannock River, this situation is a very healthy and salubrious part of the country and in a very agreeable vicinity, two very essential necessaries to be considered as a purchaser of Real Property. The terms of selling this Land may be known by application to the subscriber living near Fauquier Court House, and the terms of selling the Northumberland Tract may be known by application to Mr. Thomas Edwards of Brevington's neck.

April 23. WILLIAM BELL.

Lands for Sale.

THE subscriber offers for sale the following LANDS in Hampshire County, State of Virginia, viz.—Three Tracts adjoining each other, and containing 684 acres, lying on the North branch of Cape Capon river, 28 miles from the Town of Winchester on the public roads leading from the said Town to Rumney, the County Town. A great part of the land is bottom; a large proportion of which is improved meadow. There are some improvements on it, and a bearing apple orchard. The quantity of meadow-ground, with the advantage of an extensive range, particularly recommend it for grazing and raising of stock; and its public situation renders it a very eligible stand for a Tavern, which is much wanted on that road. There is a remarkable spring on the land which, with the water of the North River, is capable of being employed for Milling and a Distillery. One other Tract, lying ten miles distant from the one last mentioned, upon the same river, containing 454 acres. There are some improvements on it, and a great part of this land under cultivation.

These Lands will be shewn, to any Person wishing to purchase, by Col. Elias Potter, or Capt. James Carruthers, who live near them, and the terms of paymen made easy to the purchasers.

April [illegible]. JAMES CRAIK.

Lands for Sale.

FOURTEEN Hundred acres of Land, lying on the road leading from Alexandria to Newgate, about 15 miles from the former place. This land is well adapted to farming, and about two-thirds of the whole is in timber. For terms apply to
